FOUR WALLS-OR A HOME?

Back in the days of the cave dwellers, what we modernists call "home" was simply a rough shelter into which the family gathered at dark for protection against the elements.

THEY HAD neither lights nor furniture, rugs or draperies. Compare that with the modern home of today, and whether you believe in the Darwinian theory of evolution or not, you'll thank your lucky stars that you are of the present generation and not of the distant past.

WHITTALL RUGS — Size 9x12

We have just received a new shipment of Whittall Rugs, large size, the kind that will beauty your home for winter. New Draperies, Curtains and Curtain materials are also here to help you solve your home furnishing problems.
